PBL Update: PBL Conference:

Daily Attendance Attendance Rate

Miss Ross, Miss Barklem and Mrs Sense attended the annual state wide PBL Conference during the last week of Term Two. At this conference the ladies presented our Rangeville Way journey. The ladies did a wonderful job celebrating the successes of our students, staff and community with our PBL Journey so far as per the below feedback received.

Good morning Ben, Sue and Kerri, I just wanted to touch base and let you know how exciting it was to watch the Rangeville presentation at the conference yesterday. The girls were very professional, confident and articulate. The presentation was seamless. The audience were engaged and responsive to the message. The presentation itself, focussed clearly on the why of the school journey and the measurable difference PBL has made to Rangeville SS. Well done Rangeville SS Regards Allison Davis Head of Curriculum - Behaviour Coach DDSWR Behaviour Support Positive Learning Centre	Hi Leoni, Susan and Donna Thank you for your presentation at the PBL conference yesterday. As a school that commenced PBL late last year, I found your presentation to be both confirming of the path we are on and also very informative regarding next steps for us. I particularly liked your idea of a staff PBL handbook and your flow chart for recording appropriate behaviour and inappropriate behaviour. Would I be able to obtain a copy of these documents to assist with developing our own processes? That would be greatly appreciated. Oh and I plan on talking to my music teacher about the notion of a school song – wow! Thanks for your assistance, Regards Peter Robinson Deputy Principal Fitzgerald State School

National Science Week School Incursion, The Mad Food Science Program (12-14 August 2019):

Cost $12 per child.

- The Program is targeted at Primary Schools (students aged 5-13)
- Includes a Food and Waste Survey and Benchmarking Report, providing valuable data about food and waste specifically at your school.
- Features a 90-minute student incursion which contains thought provoking conversations, engaging experiments, and a taste-test for every student.
- Uses positive peer environment of large groups to give the school a consistent language to talk about food and waste
- Offers continuing education with additional teacher and school resources
- Includes a complimentary 1-hour parent information session
- A complimentary handout for every student

Parent Information Session Tuesday 13th August 6:30 – 7:30 pm TBC:

The Program fee includes a complimentary 1-1.5 hour information session for parents. Our intention is to ensure the key health messages the children learn are also delivered to the parents in a gentle, non-judgemental way. But on top of this, we want to ensure parents learn how simple it is to increase the amount of real food in their child's lunchboxes, and their family's weekly eating habits.

The Mad Food Science Parent Event is a great opportunity to learn about what's really in your child's lunchbox food, and how it might be affecting their ability to learn well at school. Wherever you are at in your health journey is completely perfect. You'll also learn how easy it is to make healthy changes to your child's lunchbox, and help your child be their best in class.

Lost – Can you help

One of our parents has lost a wallet on the school grounds, if found could you please bring it to the office.

Earn and Learn Stickers

Thank you for your support with the stickers. The final total was 61,800 stickers.

Dear Parents and Caregivers

As you would have read in a previous newsletter, this year's ICAS assessments will be completed online. Another change that has occurred is the new parent online payment option. An online direct payment facility allows you to pay UNSW Global directly for ICAS. This will need to be done by the end of this month, July 2019. When this link becomes available, we will forward it to you as soon as we receive it. If your child/children are interested in sitting the ICAS assessments, please let the school know through your children's teachers.

If you would like your children to have a go at some practice tests, you can access paper copies from Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Fitzgerald in the STLN classroom. Please remember once your child has finished with the test that we would like the paper returned.

More information to be provided as the dates draw closer.

- A complimentary handout for every student

Parent Information Session Tuesday 13th August 6:30 – 7:30 pm TBC:

The Program fee includes a complimentary 1-1.5 hour information session for parents. Our intention is to ensure the key health messages the children learn are also delivered to the parents in a gentle, non-judgemental way. But on top of this, we want to ensure parents learn how simple it is to increase the amount of real food in their child's lunchboxes, and their family's weekly eating habits.

The Mad Food Science Parent Event is a great opportunity to learn about what's really in your child's lunchbox food, and how it might be affecting their ability to learn well at school. Wherever you are at in your health journey is completely perfect. You'll also learn how easy it is to make healthy changes to your child's lunchbox, and help your child be their best in class.

Lost – Can you help

One of our parents has lost a wallet on the school grounds, if found could you please bring it to the office.

Earn and Learn Stickers

Thank you for your support with the stickers. The final total was 61,800 stickers.

Dear Parents and Caregivers

As you would have read in a previous newsletter, this year's ICAS assessments will be completed online. Another change that has occurred is the new parent online payment option. An online direct payment facility allows you to pay UNSW Global directly for ICAS. This will need to be done by the end of this month, July 2019. When this link becomes available, we will forward it to you as soon as we receive it. If your child/children are interested in sitting the ICAS assessments, please let the school know through your children's teachers.

If you would like your children to have a go at some practice tests, you can access paper copies from Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Fitzgerald in the STLN classroom. Please remember once your child has finished with the test that we would like the paper returned.

More information to be provided as the dates draw closer.

As a school that commenced PBL late last year, I found your presentation to be both confirming of the path we are on and also very informative regarding next steps for us. I particularly liked your idea of a staff PBL handbook and your flow chart for recording appropriate behaviour and inappropriate behaviour. Would I be able to obtain a copy of these documents to assist with developing our own processes? That would be greatly appreciated. PBL Update: PBL Conference:

Daily Attendance Attendance Rate

Miss Ross, Miss Barklem and Mrs Sense attended the annual state wide PBL Conference during the last week of Term Two. At this conference the ladies presented our Rangeville Way journey. The ladies did a wonderful job celebrating the successes of our students, staff and community with our PBL Journey so far as per the below feedback received.

Good morning Ben, Sue and Kerri, I just wanted to touch base and let you know how exciting it was to watch the Rangeville presentation at the conference yesterday. The girls were very professional, confident and articulate. The presentation was seamless. The audience were engaged and responsive to the message. The presentation itself, focussed clearly on the why of the school journey and the measurable difference PBL has made to Rangeville SS. Well done Rangeville SS Regards Allison Davis Head of Curriculum - Behaviour Coach DDSWR Behaviour Support Positive Learning Centre	Hi Leoni, Susan and Donna Thank you for your presentation at the PBL conference yesterday. As a school that commenced PBL late last year, I found your presentation to be both confirming of the path we are on and also very informative regarding next steps for us. I particularly liked your idea of a staff PBL handbook and your flow chart for recording appropriate behaviour and inappropriate behaviour. Would I be able to obtain a copy of these documents to assist with developing our own processes? That would be greatly appreciated. Oh and I plan on talking to my music teacher about the notion of a school song – wow! Thanks for your assistance, Regards Peter Robinson Deputy Principal Fitzgerald State School

National Science Week School Incursion, The Mad Food Science Program (12-14 August 2019):

Cost $12 per child.

- The Program is targeted at Primary Schools (students aged 5-13)
- Includes a Food and Waste Survey and Benchmarking Report, providing valuable data about food and waste specifically at your school.
- Features a 90-minute student incursion which contains thought provoking conversations, engaging experiments, and a taste-test for every student.
- Uses positive peer environment of large groups to give the school a consistent language to talk about food and waste
- Offers continuing education with additional teacher and school resources
- Includes a complimentary 1-hour parent information session
- A complimentary handout for every student

Parent Information Session Tuesday 13th August 6:30 – 7:30 pm TBC:

The Program fee includes a complimentary 1-1.5 hour information session for parents. Our intention is to ensure the key health messages the children learn are also delivered to the parents in a gentle, non-judgemental way. But on top of this, we want to ensure parents learn how simple it is to increase the amount of real food in their child's lunchboxes, and their family's weekly eating habits.

The Mad Food Science Parent Event is a great opportunity to learn about what's really in your child's lunchbox food, and how it might be affecting their ability to learn well at school. Wherever you are at in your health journey is completely perfect. You'll also learn how easy it is to make healthy changes to your child's lunchbox, and help your child be their best in class.

Lost – Can you help

One of our parents has lost a wallet on the school grounds, if found could you please bring it to the office.

Earn and Learn Stickers

Thank you for your support with the stickers. The final total was 61,800 stickers.

Dear Parents and Caregivers

As you would have read in a previous newsletter, this year's ICAS assessments will be completed online. Another change that has occurred is the new parent online payment option. An online direct payment facility allows you to pay UNSW Global directly for ICAS. This will need to be done by the end of this month, July 2019. When this link becomes available, we will forward it to you as soon as we receive it. If your child/children are interested in sitting the ICAS assessments, please let the school know through your children's teachers.

If you would like your children to have a go at some practice tests, you can access paper copies from Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Fitzgerald in the STLN classroom. Please remember once your child has finished with the test that we would like the paper returned.

More information to be provided as the dates draw closer.
